READ ALOUD: FROM SEED TO PUMPKIN

In spring, Grandpa pushed a flat white pumpkin seed into the warm soil.

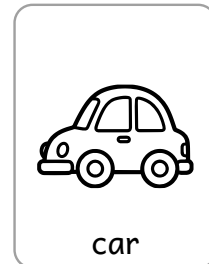

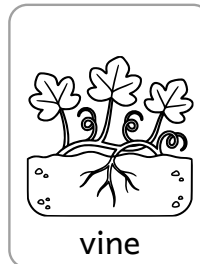

Two round leaves popped up. Then a long vine grew and crept across the garden, with big leaves and curly tendrils.

In summer, big yellow flowers opened. Bees buzzed from flower to flower. A little green pumpkin grew behind one flower. By fall, it was big and orange and full of seeds.

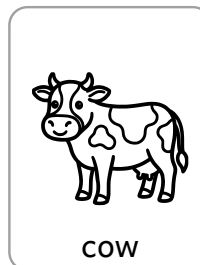

1. What did Grandpa plant?

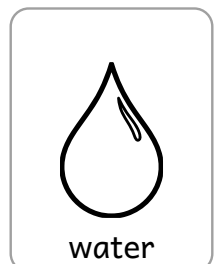

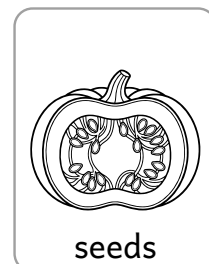

2. What crept across the garden?

3. Who buzzed from flower to flower?

4. What was inside the big pumpkin?
